Celtic priests called Druids first celebrated Halloween many centuries ago in Ireland and Scotland. They observed the end of autumn and the beginning of winter.

The Druids thought that Halloween was the night when the witches came out. As they were afraid of the witches they put on different clothes and painted their faces to deceive the evil spirits. They also placed food and small gifts near the doors of their houses for the witches.

In masks and guns we haunt the street
And knock on doors for trick or treat
Tonight we are the king and queen
For all tonight is

It means bad luck, don't look at it
If it crosses your path
And what do you think we call it?

She always flies on her magic broom,
She always flies around the moon
With a black hat on her head
And what do you think, who is that?

I am a big and round
Once upon a time I grew on the ground
Now I have a mouth, 2 eyes and a nose
Who am I do you suppose?

Interesting facts:

On Halloween in America, everyone treats themselves to sweets, and in Europe they limit themselves to bread and water - they commemorate the departed.

In China, paper “boats of fate” are made instead of pumpkins on this day.

Halloween is a very interesting celebration in Mexico. Family altars are built in the houses, which are decorated with photographs of deceased relatives. Their photos are decorated with flowers, and their souls are “treated” with beer and chocolates.

«Reese’s» most popular Halloween candy in the US.

Pumpkin is the most popular pet costume.

Proverbs about Halloween

Whenever the cat of the house is black, the lassies of lovers will have no lack.

(Если в доме есть чёрный кот, то девушки не будут знать недостатка в поклонниках)

It's every man for himself, and the Devil take the hindmost.
(Каждый за себя, и пусть дьявол схватит последнего).

When black cats prowl and pumpkins gleam, may luck be yours on Halloween.
